
A Note to Our Valued Customers

from the

The Farmer's Hen

We truly appreciate our customers support especially during these uncertain times.

As always, The Farmer's Hen is committed to the safety and well-being of our employees as well as providing our customers with safe, high quality eggs for you and your families.

We have always gone above and beyond all recommended guidelines put forth by the CDC, FDA and local officials to keep our employees and food products safe and on your store shelves. Our farmers continue working hard to ensure supply of The Famer's Hen is available to you, our valued customer.

From all of us at The Farmer's Hen, please be safe, and stay healthy!
